

1/2
of women and up to 1/4 of men over age 50
will break a bone
due to osteoporosis

Over
1/3
of patients with a hip fracture
had a prior fracture

Every year, of nearly 300,000 hip fracture patients 1/4 end up in nursing
homes
and 1/2 never regain
previous
function

After a fracture,

4 out of 5
women over 67
are not tested or treated for osteoporosis

50%
of osteoporosis-related repeat fractures can be prevented
with appropriate treatments

Osteoporosis fractures
will likely cost us

by 2025

How can we afford to let osteoporosis keep hiding?

Every year, there are 2 million fragility fractures caused by osteoporosis. And yet less than 15% of older women have had at least one bone density test. The Joint Commission has established performance measures for fracture patients over 50. Help us put them into action to break this pattern once and for all. Remember:

If it's fifty + fracture,
request a test. | Learn more at 2MILLION2MANY.org